Check your plan against the aims and outcomes in the unit introduction

I will follow and update the project plan at each feedback point, use my learning log to document all the work and learnings I have completed throughout the unit, adding photos or videos for supporting work. Research and update my knowledge accordingly at any point I need to. Review my feedback from my tutor and change anything needed. Use my critical review to reflect and

How will you synthesise your ideas and further this major project?

I will finish my children's picture book which I started, wrote and illustrated to a basic level in unit 3.1. I completed 8 of the pages in unit 3.2 to the level I am happy with, this included using surface pattern design, watercolour illustrations and also digital brushes. The aim for this last unit 3.3 Major project is to complete the remaining 13 pages and refine the front and back covers to the

What professional skills will you demonstrate, or require development of, to manage any outward facing aspects of

I have completed most of the skills I will need to finish this project. In unit 3.2 I was liaising with a children's book agent, so I have developed some skills and knowledge of where I need to take the illustrations to make them more commercial for publishing.

How will you engage with an audience?

Think about the direction you will take to present your work, either print, online or a combination of the two.

My focus will be just to complete the illustrations to a high level, if I have time I will present the work in a mock up book form of some kind. I will be posting a few of the images on my social media accounts to get some feedback from my illustration friends and colleagues, but I will be copywriting the images as I go, so I want to keep as many as possible under wraps until I am ready to

How will you schedule your major project within the unit structure?

Set out the start and end dates of your projects. Identify whether you have more than one practical project. Add suggested submission dates. If you have more than one project, identify the order in which you will complete them.

My schedule is as follows:- I am hoping to complete this unit for the assessment next year, so I will hope to finish in December. I am doing overtime at my current day job, so I can schedule in 1-2 days per week. This will increase from Aug.

Feedback 1 - submit 25th June

Feedback 2 - submit 2nd July

I started this project plan 2 with some good illustrations, I was happy the first spread turned out (Pages 1&2), it looks consistent with the other pages, and works well as you turn the page to the next spread. I had the day I would submit this project, but only by 1 day, instead of the 2nd of July. I also had to change the other spread I was working on due to a time constraint, but still achieved another spread, but one that didn't work doing to it.

I completed the SWOT analysis exercise which helped me to focus on my objectives for this unit I completed in the last one. I have also made some illustrations I need to complete to be able to pull the next few pages. There are some I didn't realise I had painted yet, but I have made some notes to add those into each project to work on to get them done.

I have also added in some research that I need to do for the back cover and Synopsis, which I have planned into my schedule.

So far this project plan has got off to a good start, even though I am not working but with the right organisation it is working out ok.

My plan for the next project is to complete the front cover, do the synopsis and research for the back cover and complete the artwork, and complete the artwork for pages 8&9, as well as the 3 exercises listed in the brief.

Feedback 3 - submit 15th July

In project 3 I have managed to complete the artwork for the front cover and attempted the full page spread of pages 8&9, but I will need to re-do this spread as it has not worked out as I had wanted it to. I need to re-do the composition, and also re-do the front garden of Rory's house. I Think the combination of the traditional illustrations and the digital b didn't work together in this instance. I will have a think about this an next project. I also started exercise 1, and considering how to show think the website idea would be the best one, but I am going to look others and see what I think going forward.

I completed the feedback from tutor and have looked into the two ill has suggested.

I have also spoke to a few friends about some collaborations in the group activities together.

Overall I am pleased with how this project has taken shape, I have everything I wanted to within it, just have to re-look at pages 8&9, b happy with project 3.

Project 4 is going to be re-looking at pages 8&9, completing spread as well as page 20. Writing out my work in progress. The reading ta your practise. In project 4 I have got to re-draw and paint some of th so the art work will take a lot longer as they are not pre-prepared, b to get back to some watercolour painting for this project.

Feedback 4 - submit 1st Aug

For project 4 I have completed another 4 artwork spreads, at least t some extra work, more traditional illustrations using watercolours to but they are both looking much better from the originals already. I a how the work is going and can see a consistency and style which is developing and hints of how the book will turn out.

I have re-looked at the project plan and want to add in some more v research into a few new illustrators my tutor has showed me, and a that I feel will help develop the art, and also give me some more ins forward. So I will need to change a few of the submission dates, bu dramatic, just shifted by a few days. I will get this sorted and planne next project plan.

Project 5 I will be creating some more hand painted illustrations so page 18, drawing and painting the new younger versions of Rorys f

The other characters in the book, so I can re-work pages 12&13 and 1/2 page 20, complete the new project plan time frame, and plan in what I want to add to my blog
